Perryburg, Toledo, Maumee City &
Manhattan.

THE steam-boat GEN. VANCE, S-PINKS, Master. This splendid little boat has now taken her place for the season, and will run regularly between the above named places, in the following order, to wit:—Leave Perryburg every morning, at 7 1/2 o'clock, touching at Maumee City, Oregon and Toledo, in time for the cars going to Adrian, and arrive at Manhattan at 9 o'clock, touching at above, and arrive at Perryburg at 12 o'clock. Leave Perryburg at half past one o'clock, and Toledo at 4 o'clock, or after the arrival of the cars from Adrian; running and touching as above.

For freight or passage, apply to the captain on board, or to

J. Hollister & Co., Perryburg.

Smith, Howe & Co., Maumee City.

Carpenter & Co., { Upper Toledo.

Paag & Tius, { Lower Toledo.

Peckham & Co., { Lower Toledo.

Cornwell & Fox, Manhattan.

P. S.—Sailing parties can at all times depend upon the services of the Gen. Vance, by giving a few hours notice to the Capt., or to the above agents.

N. B.—Capt. Spink will attend promptly to all calls from Captains of vessels who may wish to be towed either up or down the river.

TO PHYSICIANS AND PATIENTS.

The Blind Piles, said to be incurable by external applications.—Solomon Hays warrants the contrary. His Liniment will cure Blind Piles. Facts are more stubborn than theories. He solicits all respectable Physicians to try it upon their patients. It will do them no harm, and it is known that physicians who had the honesty to make the trial, have candidly admitted that it has succeeded in every case they have known.
Then why not use it? It is the recipe of one of their most respectable members, now deceased. Why refuse to use it? Because it is sold as a proprietary medicine? Is this a sufficient excuse for suffering their patients to linger in distress? We think not.
Physicians shall be convinced that there is no humbug or quackery about this article.— Why then not alleviate human suffering?
If they won't try it before, let them after all other prescriptions fail. Physicians are respectfully requested to do themselves and patients the justice to use the article.
It shall be taken from the bottle, and done up as their prescription, if they desire.
Let them apply the Comstock & Co., at the Drug Store, No. 2 Fletcher street near Pearl, New York, and of most respectable druggists throughout this country. Also at O. Williams & Co., Maumee City.

SOLOMON HAYS.

FLORENCE, ALA. SEPT. 28, 1838.—A gentleman of the highest standing in this town, who has been dreadfully afflicted with the Blind Piles for the last 26 years, called upon me and freely confessed to me his situation. After describing the severity of the complaint, he remarked he had not been so well for 26 years past as he was at that moment. He has used one bottle only of Hays' Liniment. To use his own words he said "the whole human family, who were thus afflicted, ought to be made acquainted with this medicine."

Signed, R. L. BLISS.

The original letter may be seen where the article is sold, No. 2 Fletcher street New York. And at nearly all the Apothecaries in North America. Also at O. & D. Williams Maumee City.

es, at this office.

TO THE INCREDULOUS.—New York Sept. 24, 1838.—I have been entirely blind during 15 years, and have now, by the use of the genuine Balm of Columbia my sight covered with fine hair. I shall be happy to convince the most incredulous, who will take the trouble to call at my house.
I have bought the article of Comstock &

HAVE YOU A COUGH?—Do not neglect it!—Thousands have met premature death for the want of a little attention to a common cold.

Have you a cough?—Rev. Dr. Bartholomew's Expectorant Syrup, a safe medical prescription, containing no poisonous drugs, and used in an extensive practice for several years, will most positively afford relief, and save you from that awful disease pulmonary consumption, which usually sweeps into the grave, hundreds of the young, the old, the fair, the lovely and the gay!

Have you a cough?—Be persuaded to purchase a bottle of this Expectorant Syrup to day!—To-morrow may be too late.

Have you a cough?—Bartholomew's Expectorant Syrup is the only remedy you should take to cure you.

For this plain reason:—That in no one for the thousand cases where it has been used it failed to relieve.

For sale at the drug store of Comstock & Co. 2 Fletcher st. near Pearl, and at all respectable Drug Stores. Also at O. & D.
Williams Maumee City.

THE LATE MAYOR of Philadelphia has certified under his city the character of several Divines, Physicians, and gentlemen of high standing who declare positively under their own hands (all of which may be seen at the Drug Store) that the Balm of Columbia is not only a certain preservative, but positively a restorative of the human hair; also a cure for Dandruff.
Who shall dispute, or go bald? The only true hair a splendid steel plate engraved wrapper, with Falls of Niagara, and the name of Comstock & Co. New York, &c. on it. For sale at O. & D. Williams Maumee City.

O. & D. WILLIAMS,

WILL continue the business of Merchandising at the old stand of O.
Williams & Co., where they will be ready to attend to the calls of their customers as usual. They respectfully solicit the patronage of their old friends, and the public in general, a continuance of which they will endeavor to merit. March 9.

ELECTIONEERING PAPERS.—We observe that the publishers of the State Journal and the Columbus Statesman have issued proposals for publishing papers devoted exclusively to electioneering, during the coming campaign. This they have an undoubted right to do, and we shall make no effort to restrain them in their exercise, while, at the same time, we tender them both our fervent hopes, that they will receive so little encouragement as to deter them from putting their designs in execution. Now, we have no doubt, many will think it strange that we should call in question the utility of a custom sanctioned by such revered usage, and stranger still, that we should mingle both whig and tory and indiscriminately oppose them both, while we act with the whig party; if there are any such, our reasons for so doing are ready, and while they are satisfactory to us, we hope they will convince our friends that we, at least have no reason to wish success to such an enterprise. Papers of the kind under consideration, when they come from an office at which another paper is published, usually contain the same matter with the other, made up in a different form, disguised with a new name, and with the addition of some more highly spiced and elaborate articles, that give the print a more exclusively party complexion, than the one from which it is made. Being thus made up, it goes forth to the world as the paper, calculated expressly for revolutionizing the state; it is commended to party committees, forced into circulation by agents who travel, collecting contributions for its support, the mails are loaded with bundles of it, directed to everybody who takes an interest in politics and has a purse, and a general rally is called for to put money in the editor's pocket that he may get the full reward for his philanthropic exertions.

There is something that savors strongly of empiricism in these extra papers. They are offered at a pretended low price—only fifty cents for the campaign—a thing that looks rather strange, coming as it does from those who profess to be great sticklers for the honor and glory of the printing business, and strenuous advocates for high prices. They come recommended to fit every case, and like the nostrum of the quack, are calculated for every disease whatever may be its nature or stage. No matter what may be the local interests to support, the local claims to advocate, or the local feelings to soothe or excite, your extra cheap, extra strong and double extra talented paper comes armed with plenipotency to cut all the Gordian knots of policy, settle all disputes, by means of a kind of patent, double acting, self taught political second sight, and to set every thing right with the innate dignity with which it abuses the English language, and takes upon itself to meddle with things which it had better let alone.

We think we are fully borne out by experience in saying that these papers will, if they do no political or even party good, be productive of a vast amount of moral evil.
They are calculated by an overstrained tone, and an intensity of coloring to excite and mislead those into whose hands they fall and to awaken all the bad passions of our natures against each other. They do not convince, on account of the manifest prejudice under which they view every thing of a party nature, and their only effect is to stimulate both parties with an unnatural excitement that is carried more or less, as the paper is read and believed, into all the relations of society.

There is another reason why we wish papers of this kind no good; they draw away a large portion of the support that legitimately belongs to the local press. In the support which political extras receive, the local press is virtually told that it does not answer the purpose. The people of Ohio are too prone to undervalue their local papers. A print, to be valuable must come from a distance. A prophet at home is not only without honor, but without credit.
Now, we are certain, that the half of the money that is raised in some places to subsidize a distant press, would make the papers at home all that those who pay could wish for. It would revive the spirit of manly laborious publisher, who, borne down under a weight of debt, and loaded with the consciousness that his labors are unappreciated, is as dull and uneffective as his worst enemies can wish.

People may learn it when they will, the local press is the engine from which they must expect the most powerful effects, and if they shut their eyes to the fact, they may try in vain to act through the medium of papers at a distance. Support your papers at home. You can command talent cheaper there than abroad. A little assistance, a little money and a little charity, and you can raise up in your own neighborhood a zealous and faithful advocate of your doctrines and interests—one that will never sleep, and that will grow better and better in proportion as it is relied upon.

EMIGRATION.—The following very true and sensible article is from the Ohio State Bulletin. We are happy to observe that Mr. Byrns unlike any other editor we have ever known at Columbus, has eyes to see some other part of the state, besides some dozen or so counties immediately around river, will, ere long, form an important segment of the state, in point of wealth and business, as well as population, and we are happy to find that there is one editor of a metropolitan paper who has eyes to discern and liberality to acknowledge those things to which others are either wilfully blind or carelessly ignorant.

The settlement of this portion of the state is going rapidly on, in spite of the crowds that are rushing towards that temporary el Dorado, Iowa. The back parts of Lucas and Wood counties are fast filling up with a hardy band of pioneers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the interior of Ohio, and Williams and Henry counties are by no means behindhand in larger accessions to their population. We should like to see, it is true, a large proportion of New Englanders mingled with the descendants of our German ancestors, but if the land is only filled and the forests cut down, and meadows and orchards and fruitful fields taking their places we will not complain, though the song of father-land is sung and the barbarous patois of Switzerland and Germany is spoken by those who do it.

THE SPIRIT OF EMIGRATION.—"The Far West" is beginning to attract numerous Emigrants from the Far East, of late—and some portions of Ohio are not far behind in this particular. Many of our citizens seem to partake largely of this moving mania, and are actually pulling up stakes, with a determination to travel towards "the settling sun." The Territory of Iowa seems, just now, to be foremost in its attractions, and is drawing largely upon the northern and eastern states for settlement. What, however, is not a little singular in the movement, is the striking fact, that these very emigrants, most of them at least, travel over a much richer, more productive, and more inviting region to reach the Mississippi than is usually found any where the other side of that mammoth stream.

But the argument is, "a new country, and cheap lands." Granted. We have an abundance of cheap and valuable lands yet in our own Ohio. Look up the valley of the MAUMEE for the distance of nearly 100 miles, to the line of Indiana, and you will find a soil inferior to that of no other portion of the world;—certainly not less promising than those regions washed by the far-famed Mississippi, or any of its tributaries. A little back of the Maumee river is to be found a gently undulating country, beautifully timbered, and of a deep, black soil, producing grass and grain of the most luxuriant growth in great abundance, and receiving the benefits of the WABASH and ERIE CAN-ALS, one of the most promising public works ever projected in any country.

Tributary to this stream is the AUGLAIZE RIVER, which forms a junction with the Maumee at the beautiful town of Defiance, the capital of Williams county. Up
